

The Arabic Letter Nu ?

I am the Great God who created himself, even Nu, who made his names to become the Company of the Gods as gods.

-- Pert em Hru
(Book of Becoming Awake)
Chapter 17: 9-10

The Pert em Hru is the oldest book of Scripture in the world. And even it is a condensation or condensation of Egyptian scientific wisdom from millennia before the Pert em Hru was put together.

The Pert is popularly, but erroneously known as the Egyptian Book of the Dead because Arab tourists called the copies they found "kitaabi-m-mayyit" (books of the dead men). Like some corpses that were buried with Bibles, ancient Egyptians were often buried with scrolls of the Pert em Hru.

The title is correctly translated "Coming Forth By Day," "Coming Forth Awake" or "Becoming

The above passage indicates that the Egyptians were indeed monotheistic. The gods were but "attributes" of Nu. that principle was borrowed by the Muslims who consider 99 names of Allah as various attributes of the One God, not separate, independently existing deities.

Epistemology of Religious Concepts

Just as chemistry developed out of ancient alchemical experiments, relativity developed from Newtonian physics and quantum physics emerged from relativity, so also religious principles and concepts developed from their epistemological roots.

People will readily admit, for example, that Democracy developed out of the Magna Carta, French Revolution, Roman Senate and Greek Republic, they tend to think religion popped up in a vacuum.

It did not. Most principles of religion were borrowed from the same Africans that Socrates, Plato and Aristotle sought to learn philosophy, wisdom and democracy.

Most Westerners would be shocked to discover that democracy was the standard form of government throughout most of Africa thousands of years before the Greeks left barbarism. But that is the discovery of another time.

Divine Revelation

Western religious ideas supposedly came solely through divine revelation and thus no connection to the roots of those concepts need be acknowledged.

Such assumptions result from a complete misunderstanding of what divine revelation is and how it works.

Egyptian Mystery Schools

Egyptian mythology (symbolically written science, history and cosmology) says that Ausar (Osiris) traveled around the world teaching civilization to humanity to bring them out of a savage state.

Whether or not the historic Osiris made such a travel, there is no doubt that the Ausarian priests founded Mystery Schools (universities) all over the known world and quite likely in the Americas too.

In this manner the Egyptians spread culture throughout the world.

At the highest levels of training students mastered the ability to stop thought and thereby have knowledge downloaded from the higher ("heavenly") regions of the "unconscious," the part of spirit that the Egyptians called the Khu (Chia in the Qaballah system).

The ability to obtain knowledge from the all-knowing, indwelling divinity was called "wisdom" (in Egyptian) and provides direct knowing, as opposed to learning through going through a symbolic thought process.

The Arabic word for revelation is tanziyl, "something sent down." It (intuition) comes down because it comes from the exalted states of the "unconscious."

When the Khu faculty is fully cultivated the initiate becomes a prophet, sage or seer. He or she is a member of the Order or Brotherhood of the Prophets.

Egyptian sages assented that their knowledge was sent down to them by Tehuti: (Thoth), the personification of wisdom, science, medicine, art and mathematics.

All wisdom (Chockmah) is not equal. Most Middle Eastern prophets only received revelation "Gabriel," i.e., from the level of mediumistic trance presided over by the goddess Isis (9th sphere of the Tree of Life).

Greek sages were proud to obtain wisdom from Hermes (8th sphere of the Tree of Life).

Say: Whoever is an enemy to Gabriel -- for surely he revealed it to them by Allah's command.

The task of the non-Egyptian prophets who were taught in the Egyptian Mystery Schools was to interpret the principles of the Egyptians to the people of their lands.

The non-Egyptian prophets were "raised" to prophethood.

So an Egyptian knowledge thread runs through all the world's spiritual systems. And the core of knowledge -- though often grossly distorted over the passage of time -- is Egyptian.

The Semitic prophets didn't learn out of thin air, they learned from Egyptians or, second or third hand, from people who had themselves been taught by Egyptians.

A scholarly study of modern beliefs, customs and ceremonies would reveal their Egyptian, Dravidian, Sumerian or Babylonian origins.

Custom Originated Form

Easter Passover

Passover Vernal Equinox

Christmas Winter Solstice

Proverbs Ptah-hotep

Baptism Voodoo

Shalom & Salaam Egyptian Hetep

Virgin Mother Mary Virgin Isis

"Eight from Cattle" (Quran) 8 Gods from Nut

Adam names animals Atem names animals

Jesus resurrection Horus & Osiris resurrection

Jesus walks on water Horus walks on water

Gehanna/Hell Tuat

Don't eat pork Pig favored animal of Set, killer of Osiris

Devil as smoke in Genesis Apep, opponent of Ra was snake

Satan Set of Egypt

Circumcision Egyptian custom

Hajj Ethiopian in origin

There are countless other examples such as the Eucharist.

So to understand spiritual ideas we have to connect them to their epistemological roots.

Understanding the Arabic letter Nun requires that we look at the Egyptian God Nun and his celestial Nunet who are also known as Nu and Nut.

When the Pert em Hru was compiled Amen was not yet considered an Egyptian god. Amen was brought to Egypt from Ethiopia. The Amen position was held by Nu. Nu was, metaphorically, an infinite expanse of water. But water, as shown by the wavy lines of Nu's hieroglyph, meant energy.

Nu was infinite energy. His opposite polarity, the goddess Nut, symbolized infinite matter. So the combination of Nu and Nut represented undifferentiated energy/matter.

That undifferentiated, "pre-Big Bang," state of Being (and consciousness) consisted of eight fundamental characteristics:

Nu (Nun) Nut (Nunet)

Hehu Hehuit

Kerh Kerhet

Kekui Kekuit

Nu (infinite energy) paired with Nut (infinite matter). Though fused they formed the basis for the Yang & Yin polarities famous in Chinese Taoist philosophy.

Hehu (temporal infinity) paired with Hehut (spacial infinity). Kerh (darkness) paired with Kerhet (light). Inertia (inertia) paired with Kekuit (stillness).

Those 8 attributes, forces or "deities" formed the spiritual template for all differentiated phenomena.

8 DNA strands, 8 lunar phases, 8 bits per computer byte, octal number system, 8 brain circuits, 8 directions, 8 solar directions and 8 I Ching trigrams.

Oracles: Spiritual Computers

Oracles are based on 8 and are usually factors of 8.

The I Ching oracle has 64 (8 x 8) hexagrams. The Minor Arcana of the Tarot (which is structured like the Tree of Life) has 56 (7 x 8) statements or cards.

Nun (Nu), having 8 characteristics, is the basis of oracles.

An oracle is a spiritual computer which forecasts the probable outcome of any event or undertaking upon the present state of one's spirit.

Oracles also provide spiritual procedures (rituals) which facilitate or mitigate any probable outcome.

This is of the occult information we inspire to you. And you were not with them when they cast their Oracles (to decide) which of them would care for Mary,

and you were not with them
when they contended with one another.

-- Quran 3:43

I translated "aglaam" in the above verse (oracles) instead of "pens" or "lots" as most other translators render the word.

Oracles are mentioned in the Bible and the Quran. All ancient societies had their oracular system. The most famous was the famous Greek oracle at Delphi and the Jews used oracles called the Urim and the Thummim.

Because few people achieve the level of sage or "living oracle," the wise ancients provided wisdom to everyone to access the wisdom faculty to succeed in life and to learn from the hidden, occulted, and omniscient faculty in woman and man.

Oracles provide that access.

The oracle I use most is called the Metu Neter. It was reintroduced by Ra Un Nefer Amen who retrieved it from the Akashic Record.

I have found that oracle to be astonishingly accurate.

The first time I used the oracle I asked what my purpose in life was. The answer I got was Maat. That answer only verified what I already knew.

Maat corresponds with Jupiter and concerns spirituality, law, courts and philosophy.

In my birth chart, Jupiter is in my 3rd house (communications) and rules my 10th house (career).

I believe the 10th house shows your life's purpose.

So the Maat Hetep card verified that I was to communicate (3rd house) spiritual understanding (Jupiter) in a way that had productive and practical application (Jupiter in Taurus).

Because my 12th house Sun is square Jupiter I knew that my work and words would cause government opposition (Sun) that would be conducted secretly and in an underhand manner (12th house), but government opposition is merely an outer reflection of my inner tendency to come across as a radical extremist (Aquarius). Should I develop the ability to communicate more inclusively (Jupiter) the government anger would be greatly reduced.

Qalaam (plural, aqlaam) originally meant "feather." Because feathers were used for writing, it was used for "pen."

As a feather wrote ordinary words, oracles write divine words (Metut Neter).

Birds fly, thus they symbolized spiritual regions. The wing provided the force to fly, so wings so represented pranayama.

Pranayama (breath control) took one to altered states of consciousness where they could read what had "written" so the feather (symbol of Tehuti's wife Maat) came to symbolize oracles.

And if all the trees on earth were oracles and the ocean with seven more oceans added to it (were ink), the Letters of Allah would not be exhausted. Surely Allah is mighty, wise.

-- Quran 31:27

The "trees" refer to the various Trees of Life in different cultures. The Letters are the sound of the mantras.

Chant with the name of your Lord who created. He created the man from an attaching thing. Chant and your Lord is most generous.
He taught the man what he never knew.

-- Quran 96:1-5

The above verses were the first Quranic revelations. Unfortunately, after Prophet Muhammad's death, the Quran was rearranged. Now the exquisite process is severely damaged.

Surah 1, "Al-Fatihah," (The Opening) is really Surah 5. Its real title is Al-Hamd (The Praise).

The Arabs did a real hatchet job on the Quran after Muhammad.

The true 114th Surah is currently at 110, but only partially so. The final verse was chopped off.

Surah and, inexplicably, stuck in Surah 5 Ayat 3.

The Arabs can't get right until Al-Islam is right and Al-Islam cannot be made right until the Quran is restored.

The Death Card

Death is the end of the world and the beginning of the next world. The Tarot card that accords with Nun is Death which is ascribed to Scorpio. Thus the principle of Nun, like Scorpio, is transformation.

Scorpio rules the 8th sign and house which deal with sex, death and transformation. Scorpio is the sign of the death and the house of the dead. The Tarot card that accords with Scorpio is Death which is ascribed to Nun. Thus the principle of Scorpio, like Nun, is transformation.

Scorpio rules the 8th sign and house which deal with sex, death and transformation. Scorpio is the sign of the death and the house of the dead. The Tarot card that accords with Scorpio is Death which is ascribed to Nun. Thus the principle of Scorpio, like Nun, is transformation.

The Tarot card that accords with Nun is Death which is ascribed to Scorpio. Thus the principle of Nun, like Scorpio, is transformation.

Scorpio rules the 8th sign and house which deal with sex, death and transformation.

Scripturally, "death" often signifies initiation.

Speak not of my righteous servants as dead. Nay, they are alive but you perceive them not.

-- Quran

Like Scorpio, true spiritual initiates are often underground, operating in secret and they are all around but "ye see them not."

Sex and death are so intimately related that the French call orgasm "la petite morte," i.e., "the little death."

Because sex usually results in ejaculation, sex leads to death.

But metaphorical death (initiation) leads to mastery of sex thus potential immortality.

Let the dead [initiates] bury the [physically] dead.

-- Jesus

Sex is a transformative energy. The initiate harnesses that mighty force to empower a transformation into the embodiment (shrine) of a particular aspect of divine.

Scorpio's symbols are the scorpion, dove, snake, eagle, spider and hawk (or falcon).

In Genesis the upright serpent is a thinly disguised symbol of the erect penis. It excites ("tempts") the woman, Eve.

Eve means "breath," and represents the life-force.

The snake tells her that she won't die if she eats of the tree. On the contrary, her eyes will open and she will become like the Eloheem (gods).

The tree is one of knowledge of positive and negative ("good and evil") polarities.

In Taoist philosophy Ching is sexual energy. The I Ching -- Book of Transformations -- is related to sexual force.

Life force (Chi, Ra, Kundalini) is inherently sexual) (electromagnetic). All oracles function in conjunction with the life force.

The 64 hexagram I Ching is the most complete oracle extant.

The 64 lessons of the Lost-Found Nation of Islam comprise a replica of the I Ching oracle, though NOI members are currently unaware of the Lesson's oracular function.

Nun! By the Oracle and what they write.

-- Quran 68: 1-2

The above Surah 68 is actually the Second Surah of the Quran.

It is of interest that the first two revelations to Muhammad mention oracles.

The Letter Nun is, in fact, spiritual code for oracle. Nu/Nun is the highest oracle.

To the Egyptians Nun meant water. The Hebrews made it mean "fish."

Nu represents the highest state of consciousness achieved via meditation. There is no thinking or objectification at the Nu (Samadhi/Nirvana) level and thus the Egyptians referred to that consciousness as Atem (no thing).

The Being at that ontological plateau is undifferentiated and therefore it is Amen (Hidden).

The Amen/Nu mind is Not Moving (Nirvana) for nothing exists but consciousness of being conscious.

That original unconditioned, undifferentiated state underlies all object and phenomena in the world. It is the Great Void or Wu Chi of Taoism and the Samadhi of Yoga. Tibetan Buddhists refer to it as the Unborn.

Will (Hu) at the Amen level is totally fused with consciousness (Sa).

Say: Huwa! Allah is One.
Allah is the Samad [Samadhi].
He never begets
And He was never begotten.
And there can never be One
Equal to Him.

-- Quran 112: 1-4

The Samad consciousness and being is the only Reality. It is eternal and absolute. But it is not just a condition long ago, It is the one energetic Being that continually, each instant, provides the subatomic energy/matter that is the very substance of creation and even thought.

People incorrectly take their personalities -- their complex of emotions, habits and physical traits -- for their true selves.

True spirituality recognizes those as ephemeral, transitory and fictitious selves, lower selves. The True Self is Atman, Amen, Ausar, Brahman or Allah.

Whoever submits his face to Allah and is a do-gooder, then for him is a reward with his Lord. And there is no fear upon them and they shall not grieve.

-- Quran 2:112

In astrology the parts of being include the Personality (Rising Sign), the Emotional body (Moon) and the Identity (Sun).

The Sun is regarded as indicative of the Self. The Ascendant (Rising Sign) and Moon are properties of the lower self, the false self which deceives us into thinking it is the true self. Thus the Tarot Moon Card denotes "deception, hidden enemies."

Personality comes from persona, i.e., a mask. In Greek theatre the actors wore masks (personae). In life we wear such masks and confuse the mask with our True Selves, our Ba or Atman. The masks are so glued onto our beings that we go to our graves without ever once encountering who we really are.

At the Amen/Nu level we strip off all personae and see ourselves and others "naked and not ashamed."

The initiate must submit his Face, his lower, conditioned personality, (jiva) to the Higher part of Being (Allah).

Muslims think they have to submit their wills to Allah. That notion comes from a mistranslation of verses like the one above.

For example, Maulana Muhammad 'Ali translates the above verse "whoever submits himself..."

The Self is the Atman. But the Arabic word in the verse is wajh (face).

When an initiate reaches the Ba plane of development she can put on and take off faces at will. That is the Great Liberation of spiritual tradition.

Let us say that you are a woman with Libra rising. You are naturally equipped to handle any problems whose solutions are in accord with the nature of Libra. You are charming, sociable, attractive and can bring harmony into any environment.

Your Libran gifts, however, are also an imprisonment. You're hooked into Libran methods of operation. But life will conspire to throw problems at you that have nothing to do with Libra.

Liberation involves being able to naturally assume the persona that's appropriate for the occasion, realizing that your true self has not, will not and cannot change.

The sweet Libran may find herself pulled into a war situation. Her gifts of art and socializing may do little to keep her alive on the battlefield. What she needs is some Aries, some Mars to deal with the horrific nature of war.

An initiate could chant "Aung Hlring," heka of Mars, to instantly transform into Herukhuti, the archetype ("god") of war. Or she could evoke ("call at") the latent Neith or Inanna (female warrior) characteristics within herself.

We become very attached to our persona because we don't realize we were born with certain traits as a development phase: "He created the man from an attaching thing."

Eventually, we are given no choice but to sacrifice our inner animal, to knock over our current idols.

A verse in the Quran says that everything will eventually perish except Allah's Face. The only real Face (personality) is God.

Oracles tell us which divine face is involved in a particular undertaking and thus which we should call out of latency.

The God Min

Min is the Egyptian archetype of male sexual power. His icon shows him standing on a pillar masturbating with his left hand, the hand that sends energy back inside .

So Min represents semen retention. A-min (Amen, Amon, or Nu) is the highest cultivation of the principle and practice of Min.

So we now see the connection between Nu and Scorpio and the 8th house of sex.

Scorpio sex is not really external sex. Of course, most Scorpions today are extremely sexual and, not knowing of tantra, they "get it on" almost incessantly.

But the Scorpion's sexual force is really hidden, down deep. It is meant to be redirected back into the body, thus achieving immortality, transformation and regeneration.

The Pert speaks proudly of the Aged One who is yet ever young and renews himself daily.

Mastery of semen retention (Min) is a major part of becoming "the Ausar."

Amen's hieroglyph is a ram's slaughtering tray. It symbolizes sacrificing (sublimating) the ejaculatory urge.

Through perfection of this art one can become the Osiris and get access to the divine mind (Tahuti, author of all oracles).

Eventually, one becomes a living oracle (prophet).

"Celibacy" among the Prophets

The word "sin" is derived from a Sumerian word that means "to waste semen."

In a man, sperm cells are like little chi-holding batteries. The more batteries the more chi power available.

Men lose chi power through ejaculation. Women lose it through monthly menstruation.

Masters learned how to enjoy vigorous sex, experience whole body and male multiple orgasms and yet not ejaculate. Such masters were called "chaste" and "celibate" in the Scriptures.

And monkery, they innovated it.
We did not prescribe it to them --
only to seek Allah's pleasure.
But they did not observe it with its due observance.

-- Quran 57:27

The "celibacy" of the Catholic priests and other types of asexuality are people's own creations, not something prescribed by God. Priests were advised to seek God's pleasure (ecstatic trance), but they decided to deny all sexual activity. "They did not observe it with due observance."

The Catholic innovation is presently ripping the Church apart as the sexual secrets of some priests comes to light.

Allah gives you good news of John -- chanting truthfully with a Letter from Allah -- and a master and a chaste one and a prophet from the ones who put pieces back together [saliheen]

-- Quran 3:38

John the Baptist is here called hasur ("chaste," for want of a more accurate word). It means that he achieved mastery over semen retention and thereby became a seer (prophet).

Women initiates who achieve mastery of female sexual force are also considered "chaste".

And with them are chaste women having beautiful eyes, like they were protected eggs.

-- Quran 37:48-49

"Protected eggs" alludes to the menstrual suppression of female sexual initiates. The "beautiful eyes" refers both to the effect of sexual cultivation on the physical eye and the awakening of the Third Eye (psychic faculty).

Perfection of this process transforms the female masters into a "virgin."

"Virgin" -- in scriptural code -- has nothing to do with intercourse. It is the perfection of storing the ova in the body to multiply chi power.

Thus we have the Virgin Mary and the Virgin Isis, both of whom had active sex lives yet were eternally virgins.

The ignorant uninitiates thus charge them with being whores because they cannot comprehend the sublime spirituality of such priestesses and their sexual blessing.

Surely those who ignorantly accuse chaste women are cursed in the lower world and the Latter, and for them is a grievous chastisement.

-- Quran 24: 23

Mary was charged with fornication and with being a whore by the ignorant "moral majority" of her time.

Allah has sealed [their hearts]... for their coverup and their uttering against Mary a grievous calumny.

-- Quran 4:157

O Sister of Aaron (Mary)
your father was not a wicked
man nor was your mother
a whore.

-- Quran 19:28

Just as male semen retention involves mastery of testicle breathing, female sexual mastery is connected with ovarian/vaginal breathing.

And Mary, the daughter of Amran, who guarded her vulva. So we breathed into it Our Spirit and She chanted with Letters of her Lord and His Scriptures and she was one of the devout ones.

-- Quran 66:12

The Nun or Oracle responds to the life force (sex force or libido) in people. When we shuffle cards or cast stones, minute changes in our nervous system determines what statement the Oracle will show us.

A passage in the Pert em Hru says, "I have not had sex with a woman." Another says, "I have not lain with men."

So, with whom does the initiate have sex?

His sex is with Isis. It is with Nephthys, Hathor, Diana and Kali.

In other words, the initiate envisions his wife as the manifestation of the goddess and it is with the goddess he joins.

The women envisions her husband as Ra, Osiris, Heru, Krishna, etc. She unites with the god.

Thus many Egyptian Kings claimed to be sons, not of any mortal, but of Ra.

The yoga posture for the Nun is the Upavistha Konasana.

Kalimaat: Oracle Letters

The oracular statements of the Yoruba Ifa oracle are called Odu (letters).

In many places in the Quran when the word kalimaat is used oracular letters is the occult meaning of the word.

Then Adam learned Letters from his Lord.

-- Quran 2:

The Adam here represents the Atman or inner divinity. That level of consciousness "fell" and "fell from a spiritual to an illusory material focus of consciousness and forgot the universal wisdom that has stored within.

This "descent" refers to humanity collectively and individually. Every life incarnates knowing all that it then forgets.

Adam was shown mercy by being taught oracle letters (kalimaat) so he could still access the divinity stored in his subconscious (Ausar at the bottom of the Nile) despite his diminished capacities.

As previously shown, Quran 66:12 says Mary chanted truthfully with her Lord's Letters. By means of oracular statements Mary became Maa Kheru (true of speech), i.e., she mastered the ability to effectively use words of power.

Oracle letters also provide words of power and mantric letters which are expressions or modalities of the energies of particular chakras.

The letter Tam ("T" or Ta in Arabic) is a "petal letter" of the anahata (heart) chakra. A Metu Neteru reading regarding health that brings in the Heru (Sun/heart) card would also include the letter T. One could therefore chant "Om Tam Hrim," wear or visualize the color yellow and activate healing.

Mary holds the position of Isis for the Semetic wisdom traditions. Like Mary, Isis was also accused of being a whore.

When Heru challenged Set for the throne of Egypt Set assented that Heru had to have been illegitimately since Ausar was dead before Heru was conceived.

Mary represents the receptive plateau of the subconscious mind and the mediumistic trance.

The meditator's objective is to plant the image and letter (mantra) of an oracular statement in the receptive state (alpha state) so that it will then take root inside the subconscious and grow.

Tarot Letters

Each major Arcana Tarot Card provides one of the 22 Hebrew letters (kalimaat) which can be mantra.

The mantra (and associated image) will eventually unfold and download information that could not easily be obtained by ordinary means. Such downloaded knowledge is "revelation."

The Nun, we have shown, corresponds with the Death card.

Using the Tarot oracle, one could obtain higher knowledge -- having received the Death card as a messenger -- by visualizing the card and chanting Nun.

But there's more. Scorpio is the astrological sign of the Death card and Mars is the ruling planet. So a meditator would visualize the Death card and chant Mars' heka, and include the Nun letter. The chant: "Aung Hlring Nun Hrah."

Jesus: A Living Oracle

When a person's focus of consciousness is at the Khu (Chia) level of the spirit, that person becomes a prophet or a living oracle. Such a one does not have to consult external oracles and others can consult him or her for divine guidance.

Thus, in the New Testament, a woman excitedly proclaims that Jesus "told me everything I ever wanted to know."

He was a living oracle.
Surely what the Messiah Jesus,
Son of Mary, was was a messenger of Allah and His Oracle [Kalimat]
He cast it to Mary and a spirit
[Ruh] from Him.

-- Quran 4:171

As Kalimat can also be translated "word," the New Testament refers to Jesus as "the word," meaning "the (living) oracle."

When the mantra and image are taken into the meditative state (Mary/Isis) a new consciousness (Jesus/Horus) is born "divine father" (the seed or mantra which is the condensed essence of the universe).

When that new consciousness emerges it has to be nurtured (Madonna with baby at her breast) until it grows to maturity. At that point the new intelligence (Ruh + spirit, same as Hebrew Ruach or spirit) is born. "be about my fathers work" (act in the world according to the nature of the mantra that created you).

The Nun Fish

In Hebrew Nun means "fish." In the Nazarene and Essene orders an initiate was called a fish.

Such a new initiate faces death (Death card) of the old persona and rebirth and transformation into a new consciousness.

Jesus of Nazareth

During Jesus' time the town of Nazareth did not exist. The Bible translators erred. The New Testament refers to Jesus the Nazarene.

The Nazarenes were a spiritual order. The actual spelling is "Nasara." It actually means of the Ausar.

Each full initiate of the Egyptian "the Ausar Ani" or "the Ausar Nefert," etc.

Jesus the Nazarene actually conveys his initiation in the Nazarene/Ausarian order.

Check out the NEW Hotbot

Tell me when this page is updated

Sama: The Hammered Bracelet

Every day it seems that modern science takes another step toward catching up with the knowledge amassed by the ancients.

The Quran teaches that there are seven asteroid belts, sab'a samawat.

Recent space probes have discovered a second asteroid belt beyond the planet Neptune.

Sama is usually translated "heaven," so the astronomical implications of the verses referring to it are obscured. Some translators even translate it "cloud" because of the verses which say that Allah send down water from the sama.

Today, we know that the asteroid belt is full of frozen water (ice).

The Arabic sama' is the same as the Hebrew shamaim. The words are derived from the Addadian rakkis which, it self, stems from the Sumerian rakia.

The original Sumerian word, rakia, literally meant "hammered bracelet." It referred to the collection of celestial matter orbiting between Mars and Jupiter that's now called the asteroid belt.

Genesis 1:8 states that the "hammered out bracelet" was named "heaven" (shamaim).

The Bible and Quran refer to lights in this hammered bracelet:

And God said: Let there be lights in the hammered heaven, to divide between the day and the night; and let them be celestial signs and for seasons and for days and for years.

- Genesis 1:14

And certainly We have adorned the lower sama' with lamps and We have made them missiles for the Satanic ones.

Quran 67:5

While the Sumerians spoke of the asteroid belt as a bracelet, the Quran speaks of it as an adornment, a canopy that would be beautiful for those who beheld it.

The Quran specifically says that the lower sama' is adorned with lights, indicating that more asteroid belts, higher ones, existed.

Now the one beyond Neptune has been rediscovered. If we are to believe the Quran, there must be five more.

Sometimes the sama' asteroid belt is called a canopy in the Quran.

And we made the sama' a guarded canopy; yet they turn away from its signs

- Quran 21:32

If the sama asteroid belt is the canopy mentioned in the Quran, what might be its signs?

Some astrologers now include asteroids in their readings, along with known planets.

Asterisms and comets spring forth from the asteroid belt and from the Oort Cloud. For thousands of years, people have believed that such celestial bodies were omens and signs.

But how did the asteroid belt get there? Why is it a bunch of huge, broken rocks?

As strange as it may seem, the Quran provides some clues. It says that the sama asteroid belt was once one body, but that Allah rent it asunder.

Do not those who disbelieve see that the samawat (asteroid belts) and the earth were locked together, so We rent them? And We made from water everything living. Will they not then believe?

- Quran 21:30

According to the Sumerian scripture, the Enuma elish, the Earth and the Asteroid Belt were originally one giant, watery planet called Tiamat.

An invading planet came in from deep space. The Babylonian texts call the invader Marduk. the Sumerians called it Nibiru.

One of Nibiru's satellites smacked into Tiamat, ripping it into two halves, the present Earth and the hammered bracelet, the asteroid belt.

To this day, an Arabic word that's similar to Tiamat, Taammat, means "a calamity."

If Earth and the asteroid belt were, indeed, once one planet, then materials of use to earthlings should be available in the asteroid belt. And if there are seven such belts -- five more than the two presently discovered -- then maybe over long periods Tiamat was hit repeatedly and all of the belts might be from a single source.

If that is true, then space contains incalculably large amounts of raw material that we would be wise to explore.

